How to toggle field codes on or off in Word - Darn Office

What are field codes? Microsoft Word uses field codes as placeholders for data that might change in a document and for creating labels and form letters in mail-merge documents. When you use particular commands Word inserts field codes automatically. For example when you insert page numbers or a table of contents, cross-link to content like headers figure captions, etc. or even hyperlinks are field codes. Field codes are indicated by the curly brackets { and }. Examples:

David Dudley Field II - Wikipedia

David Dudley Field II (February 13, 1805–April 13, 1894) was an American lawyer and law reformer who made major contributions to the development of American civil procedure. His greatest accomplishment was engineering the move away from common law pleading towards code pleading, which culminated in the enactment of the Field Code in 1850 by the state of New York.
